

Planning for high-order thinking with Bloom’s Revised Taxonomy - _____

		Actions	Learning Experiences
Higher-order thinking	CREATING Creating new ideas, products or ways of viewing things.	Constructing Planning Inventing Making
	EVALUATING Judging the value of ideas or justifying a decision based on some criteria	Hypothesizing Experimenting Testing Judging Debating
	ANALYZING Breaking information down into its parts to explore understandings	Comparing Contrasting Attributing Outlining
Lower-order thinking	APPLYING Using information in another familiar situation	Using Demonstrating Implementing
	UNDERSTANDING Explaining ideas or concepts	Summarizing Explaining (Show and tell)
	REMEMBERING Recalling information	Listing Describing Naming Finding Identifying	